Please briefly explain how this break would benefit you	This break is a vital escape from the cycle of treatments, pain, and side effects that have kept me confined to my home. It's a chance to finally leave the "patient" role behind, reset after so much hardship, and bond with my family in a way that my illness hasn't allowed. I truly need this to remember who I am again..
Please briefly explain why you're unable to fund this break yourself?	I am unable to fund this break myself due to the cost of living crisis and my only source of income is from the state benefits that's provided. My partner can not work more than 16/17 hours a week as they has to care for me. We struggle financially and would really appreciate a break.

About Applicant

Are you?	A disabled person
Do you or the person you support have a disability as defined by the Equality Act 2010?	Yes
Please select all conditions or illnesses that apply?	Mobility (for example walking short distances or climbing stairs)
Brief Confirmation	I was diagnosed with breast cancer 2010 and underwent chemotherapy for 5 years where I was released as treated but they kept checkups with me every year. In November 2023, I went to the GP with lower back pain On December 28th 2023, I had a biopsy of iliac bone which showed extensive infiltration by metastatic cancer, GATA3 positive consistent with breast cancer ER8, PR8, HER2 negative. Ki-67 5%. Since my diagnosis I have been severely impaired with mobility, have been given a zimmer frame for in house use and wheelchair outdoors. My bones are very weak and my hips are at risk of breaking due to my cancer. My mobility is severely impaired.

As a carer, what type of care and support do you personally provide?
Brief Description of Care Support Received or Provided	I require care support and have registered carers such as my sibling. they provide me care with my cleaning, cooking, washing, putting clothes on and off, medications. My child and partner support me with shopping as I can not leave the house as freely as I used to due to being limited by a wheelchair.
As a carer, on average how many hours of support do you provide a week?

Please briefly explain how this break would benefit you	This break would support me in managing daily chronic pain by providing a calm, restorative environment away from routine pressures. It would allow me to rest, reduce stress and spend meaningful time with my family, helping improve my wellbeing and ability to cope day to day.
Please briefly explain why you're unable to fund this break yourself?	My disability was used against me at work, resulting in the loss of my employment, and I am now involved in an ongoing tribunal. Since losing my job, I have been experiencing severe financial hardship and am reliant on a reduced income while managing essential living costs, including a substantial mortgage and supporting my children. My housing situation has further deteriorated, as my home is currently uninhabitable due to serious disrepair, including a broken boiler leaving me without heating and hot water, as well as pest infestation, damp, and mould. As a result, I have been temporarily displaced, which has added further instability and stress to an already difficult situation. The combination of chronic pain, financial hardship, housing instability, and ongoing legal stress has left me feeling exhausted and unable to cope at times. I have reached a point where I urgently need a safe space to step away, take a breath, and begin to recover. A supported break would provide essential relief and an opportunity to regain some stability for both myself and my children.

About Applicant

Are you?	A disabled person
Do you or the person you support have a disability as defined by the Equality Act 2010?	Yes

Please select all conditions or illnesses that apply?	Mobility (for example walking short distances or climbing stairs) Dexterity (for example lifting and carrying objects, using a keyboard) Mental health Stamina or breathing or fatigue
Brief Confirmation	I live with severe, constant pain due to a collapsed spinal disc and tears, which significantly limits my mobility and ability to manage daily life. I struggle with basic tasks, experience ongoing fatigue, and rely on support. The impact on my mental health has been profound, leading to depression and emotional distress. My disability was used against me at work, resulting in the loss of my job, and I am now involved in an ongoing tribunal. This has left me feeling overwhelmed, isolated, and struggling to cope. A supported break would provide vital relief and an opportunity to begin recovering both physically and emotionally.
As a carer, what type of care and support do you personally provide?
Brief Description of Care Support Received or Provided	I require regular support in daily life due to severe chronic pain and limited mobility. I need assistance with household tasks, attending appointments, travelling, and aspects of personal hygiene, particularly during periods of increased pain and fatigue. My condition can fluctuate, and at times I rely heavily on support to ensure my safety and wellbeing. I am a parent to two young children, and my condition significantly affects my ability to meet their needs and take part in everyday activities with them. This has had a deep emotional impact, leaving me feeling I am not able to be the parent I want to be. Ongoing support helps me cope and maintain some level of stability and independence.

Exceptional Circumstance	Severe financial hardship I'm in extreme financial hardship. I'm also about to have the first of at least 2 surgeries this year where the recovery time is months before then having the other surgery J-pouch. I've been in a mental health crisis for 2 years now, on a lot of medication and haven't had the motivation to be alive let alone live, the clock is ticking down to the first surgery I am needing to find a few days or a week of actual living and that for me is camping by the beach and looking for stones/sea glass.
Please briefly explain how this break would benefit you	My life has been happy when I'm surrounded by community, having tea, watching clouds or sunsets, trawling the beach or being in the forest. Its connection to others and nature that keeps me feeling like there's some point to my living. It can inspire me to write/create, it leaves me grateful and it gives me hope and breath
Please briefly explain why you're unable to fund this break yourself?	I rely totally on government benefits, they are enough to get by, barely but just about. I tried saving £20 a month last year, I got to £60 before having to use it on my car, then had to cancel direct debit after that because I was borrowing from family occasionally, paying them back on the day money came in and then struggling the last week again so had to borrow to make ends meet. My car was expensive to fix, I borrowed £400 from my child and paid them back when I was paid at the end of the month and since it's been impossible to get ahead to the point I can put £20 a month by.

Please select all conditions or illnesses that apply?	Mobility (for example walking short distances or climbing stairs) Mental health Socially or behaviourally (for example associated with autism spectrum disorder (ASD) which includes Asperger's, or attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD))
Brief Confirmation	I have a long list of physical health conditions one in which is sessile serrated polyposis where I constantly grow polyps with dysplasia, I'm about to under a year of major surgeries the first a total colectomy with Ira. Daily life is difficult to predict how I'll be mobility, strength, mental health wise. A bad day looks like me not reaching toilet on time because mobility is too slow, I have pain from endometriosis, bladder disease, spine, bowel, it would also include clusters of hemiplegic migraines. I basically don't get out of bed for days unless it's to attempt the bathroom. Hope is lost and ideation about how to not live occupys me. I had a total colectomy with ileorectal anastomosis surgery 6 weeks ago, the surgeon ruptured my spleen and cut through an artery so the recovery is slower. It would be amazing to have a break to look forward to, I've not been able to get out yet

Accommodation or Activity Cost	£939
Travel Costs	£50
Other Costs	£0
Total Estimated Cost	£989
Amount Requesting Revitalise Individual	£939
Exceptional Amount Requested	£439
Exceptional Circumstance	Carer breakdown/urgent need I am applying for the full amount of £939 because my sibling, who is my sole carer, has officially reached a point of breakdown. they are a single parent to two children and have been driving 6-hour round trips weekly to shower, dress, and care for me while I have been a significant mental challenge for they. they has never faltered, but they has now completely run out of road. We are in extreme financial hardship, surviving only on Universal Credit and PIP, meaning we have zero savings to put
Please briefly explain how this break would benefit you	This break is a vital lifeline following my sibling's recent breakdown. It provides the only safe, accessible way for us to escape the 24/7 strain of my care needs and our financial hardship. It will allow my sibling to rest from their 6-hour weekly travel and daily care, preventing a total collapse of our care situation.
Please briefly explain why you're unable to fund this break yourself?	We are currently surviving solely on Universal Credit (LCWRA) and PIP, which barely covers our essential living costs and health needs as a disabled person. My sibling is a single parent of two young children (both under 7), yet they never falter in their care for me. Every single week, they makes a grueling 6-hour round trip to my home to provide the essential care I cannot do alone, including showering and dressing me, food and cleaning my flat etc. The physical and mental toll on their is immense. I know I have been a significant mental challenge for their lately, yet they continues to put my needs first without any respite for themselves. Between the costs of their travel, raising two children alone, and managing my complex daily care, there is absolutely no surplus income for a break. We are desperately in need of this reset at Mottram Hall to prevent total burnout and to give my sibling the first real rest they has had in years. This grant is our only hope for a safe, accessible environment where we can recover together, away from the constant financial and physical strain of our daily lives

About Applicant

Are you?	A disabled person

Please select all conditions or illnesses that apply?	Mobility (for example walking short distances or climbing stairs) Dexterity (for example lifting and carrying objects, using a keyboard) Learning or understanding or concentrating Memory Mental health Stamina or breathing or fatigue Learning or understanding or concentrating
Brief Confirmation	Mobility: My disability causes significant physical limitations and exhaustion, meaning I cannot manage long distances or stairs and often require mobility aids for support and use a walking stick. I rely heavily on my sibling for daily assistance, including help with household tasks, navigation, and physical support during my health struggles. Both my carer and I are facing severe burnout due to my health optimization regimen and our current financial hardship.
As a carer, what type of care and support do you personally provide?
Brief Description of Care Support Received or Provided	In my daily life, things aren't as simple as they used to be. My disability means I struggle with physical stamina and moving around safely, so I rely on my sibling for constant support. They are basically my right hand—helping me navigate my surroundings, keeping on top of my health regimen, and handling the heavy lifting of household tasks and life admin that I just can't manage alone anymore. It's a 24/7 job for them, and because we've been dealing with a lot of financial pressure lately, we are both running on empty. This break at Mottram Hall isn't just a holiday; it's a necessary reset. It gives my sibling a chance to step back from the "carer" role for a moment and lets us both recover in an accessible, safe environment where I don't have to worry about the physical hurdles of everyday life.

Please briefly explain how this break would benefit you	I would get fresh air which would be Beneficial to my health and my well-being, and hopefully bring me out of the depression. I'm feeling at the moment. I haven't had a break for a long time, I use to enjoy and benefit from jubilee Lodge I always came away feeling so much better and my anxiety and depression seemed to fade away
Please briefly explain why you're unable to fund this break yourself?	I don't seem to be able to save enough for a small holiday

Please briefly explain how this break would benefit you	Just to be able to see the children enjoy themselves rather than being stuck i because of my mental health, also would help me relax a little bit more knowing we have finally been able to do something as a whole.
Please briefly explain why you're unable to fund this break yourself?	Because we have 4 children we also have to provide for, plus with the cost of living gas and electric prices through the roof it's difficult to even save for day trip locally

Are you?	A disabled person
Do you or the person you support have a disability as defined by the Equality Act 2010?	Yes
Please select all conditions or illnesses that apply?	Mental health
Brief Confirmation	Living with an anxiety disorder means my brain is constantly on high alert, even when there's no actual danger. It's not just "being nervous"—it's a persistent, loud background noise of worry that makes simple daily tasks like answering an email, going to the shop, or meeting up with friends feel like a massive hurdle. Physically, it wears me down. I often deal with muscle tension, headaches, and a racing heart, and because my mind won't switch off at night, I'm usually exhausted. It affects my focus at work and sometimes makes me withdraw from the people I care about just to find a moment of quiet.

Please briefly explain how this break would benefit you	It would give us time as a family to be able to enjoy a bit of stress free time together. I hope getting away will relieve my ptsd a bit and giving my children time away would give them time to heal and enjoy me being a parent rather than a burden, they both deserve this more than you can imagine.
Please briefly explain why you're unable to fund this break yourself?	I am currently going through a horrific court case so as well as being a carer I have serious problems with ptsd myself so can't work much which leaves me with very little money to do anything nice and with everything my family is going through and still has to face I believe a break is urgently needed. My car has now needed work to be done which again has left me with even less money

Please briefly explain how this break would benefit you	We would be able to visit a place we have always wanted to visit, get parent on a steam train which they love and most importantly give parent the respite they need, support whilst caring for parent and social connection with other carers. It is the hope of the family that parent can create happy memories with parent again as life is hard
Please briefly explain why you're unable to fund this break yourself?	This holiday is specifically for Dementia sufferers and their carers a tailored holiday in a location my parents have always wanted to visit but are unable to do now. We are now funding significant care costs for people coming in to the home to support one parent as a carer and the other parent as the sufferer.

Exceptional Circumstance	Carer breakdown/urgent need Due to increased care and support need the unpaid carer giver is burnt out; my complex needs mean my stress has been constantly staying up. I am scared I will end up in residential care. Please help me with this break so I don't have to face this very possible reality. There was an ongoing stress with infections pain and FND. If my parent doesn't get a break they won't be able to look after me. I want to be more than the disabled person for ones u want to be myself for a change. I struggle mentally.
Please briefly explain how this break would benefit you	It will allow me to be me and be able to stabilise my mental health condition after my recent change in the frequency of FND as I had to give up all my means of purpose volunteer jobs and other engagements with friends just because I cannot go anywhere alone any longer due to the FND and I don't have adequate care funding
Please briefly explain why you're unable to fund this break yourself?	I am on benefits and due to my health I cannot work. My family cannot work either because they have to take care of me. I also have destinya which makes it hard to control movements at times. I also am studying

Are you?	A disabled person
Do you or the person you support have a disability as defined by the Equality Act 2010?	Yes
Please select all conditions or illnesses that apply?	Vision (for example blindness or partial sight) Mobility (for example walking short distances or climbing stairs) Dexterity (for example lifting and carrying objects, using a keyboard) Learning or understanding or concentrating

	Mental health Learning or understanding or concentrating
Brief Confirmation	I have cerebral palsy and am a permanent wheelchair bound user. I rely on PAs or family to look after me 24 a day. I am legally blind, with no peripheral vision. I have no bath facility at home which when I do have access to helps with my destiny. I also can have a temporary paralysis and currently recovering from foot infection cellulitis. This causing unpaid caregiver burnout as my parent has to look after my sibling(also has chronic health conditions) and me. Social care only offered me a residential care which is inadequate and unsuitable for my care needs as a young person with a dynamic illness with no predictable trigger.
As a carer, what type of care and support do you personally provide?
Brief Description of Care Support Received or Provided	Medication management, treatments and administration, Personal care , Help with feeding and drinking(at times), Admin support, Social interactions , Meeting medical needs, In addition I need support with every aspect of everyday life, including communication during functional seizures, because I can lose the ability to communicate and can have a temporary paralysis for up to three months., I maintain the capacity
As a carer, on average how many hours of support do you provide a week?

Please briefly explain how this break would benefit you	We haven't been on holiday in nearly ten years, and with all the additional stress at the moment with my partner/carers court stuff and with all the extra health issues I've been having, we feel we are the most desperate for a break that we have ever been. It would honestly be life changing to just be able to get away.
Please briefly explain why you're unable to fund this break yourself?	My partner/carers and I get universal credit, I get PIP (high on one and low on the other) and my carer gets the carers element for me. We never have money left at the end of the month in order to be able to save. I cost us more because of things I need for my health such as supplements, sugar free foods (sugar makes my cramps worse), more heating due to my temperature issues amongst other things. Neither of us have been on holiday for nearly ten years now and given the extremely stressful circumstances at the moment and the additional health issues I've been struggling with recently, we are both so desperate for any kind of break.

About Applicant

Are you?	A disabled person
Do you or the person you support have a disability as defined by the Equality Act 2010?	Yes
Please select all conditions or illnesses that apply?	Mobility (for example walking short distances or climbing stairs) Dexterity (for example lifting and carrying objects, using a keyboard) Memory Mental health

	Stamina or breathing or fatigue
Brief Confirmation	I have lymphedema & chronic cramps in my legs which makes standing and moving around difficult & painful. My underactive thyroid affects memory, temperature, fatigue & mental health, etc. All of my issues mean I struggle with my weight and I also have asthma so I get very out of breath when I walk the short amount I can with my rollator. The issues with my legs and pain mean I can't leave the house very often, when I can it's not for very long as I need to have my legs up as much as possible to manage the pain, cramps and swelling. I have a large mobility scooter not allowed on trains. It also means that I can't travel very far in a vehicle.
As a carer, what type of care and support do you personally provide?
Brief Description of Care Support Received or Provided	My partner is my carer and helps me with most things including cleaning, cooking, washing, shopping and keeping me sane! The holiday would be for my carer and myself.
As a carer, on average how many hours of support do you provide a week?

Please briefly explain how this break would benefit you	Dealing with agencies/agency carers on my own with no family support is exhausting & stressful. Every day is a fight to get my basic needs met for a condition that is deteriorating. There are days I feel close to a nervous breakdown. I feel I need a break to just let me breathe and feel like myself again for a few days.
Please briefly explain why you're unable to fund this break yourself?	I can't go away on my own because of my disability, I need a minimum of 2 people with me. I'd also need to hire suitable equipment. This all increases the cost significantly. I don't have enough hours of care to take a carer away with me within my existing allowance, due to cuts. From my benefits, I have to pay for a cleaner and gardener to do tasks that I can no longer carry out myself, as well as pay people for odd jobs around my home. I simply cannot afford to fund a break myself.

About Applicant

Are you?	A disabled person
Do you or the person you support have a disability as defined by the Equality Act 2010?	Yes
Please select all conditions or illnesses that apply?	Mobility (for example walking short distances or climbing stairs) Dexterity (for example lifting and carrying objects, using a keyboard) Learning or understanding or concentrating Mental health Stamina or breathing or fatigue Learning or understanding or concentrating

Brief Confirmation	I am unable to get in and out of bed, toilet, shower or my power chair without carers help. I am a permanent power chair user. I can 't carry out 'normal' daily tasks, like cooking meals, and any tasks that I can do takes me extra time and energy. My condition is progressive and causes me fatigue and stress.
As a carer, what type of care and support do you personally provide?
Brief Description of Care Support Received or Provided	Carers support to get me out of bed in the morning - I have a specialist motion bed that turns and they use a stand-aid - into my power chair. They help me to the toilet and shower - again with the use of a stand aid. They get me dressed. A carer will make my breakfast and prepare my lunch for later in the day. I then have a carer come in at dinner/tea time to make me something to eat. They will also get me to toilet. At bedtime, a carer will help me get ready for bed, toilet, and into bed. Carers will help with light housework, laundry and shopping. I pay a cleaner and gardener to carry out these additional jobs. I need the support of friends if I want to go out anywhere else, to assist me with getting my wheelchair into an wheelchair accessible (WAV) car or accessible public transport.
As a carer, on average how many hours of support do you provide a week?

Please briefly explain how this break would benefit you	They are due to have double surgery this year I feel giving them a break away from all the hospitals and long days sat in waiting rooms a big lift in their mental wellbeing. As they don't get to go anywhere the last 2 years have been a really tough time for them. I would like to see their smile
Please briefly explain why you're unable to fund this break yourself?	Due to high cost of living we can't afford it. They have their own place as their independence is really the only thing they have. Due to this it costs them a lot for everyday living.

Please briefly explain how this break would benefit you	I took 3 months off uni (returned 8th April) includiong a month long admission ion February to hospital I am extremely tried and burntout, and need something to look forward to and something fun. I cannot afford a holiday.I have already been offered a subsidised ciost ticket to the Medicine Ferstival of £199.
Please briefly explain why you're unable to fund this break yourself?	I received Universal credit, Pip and ESA, most of my montly income goes to private prescriptions for essentail medication, and household bills.Due to my rare heath conditions, and cost associated with managing, i have got into significant debt, and live using my bank overdraft. I am a postgraduate research student, and have 2 zero hour contract jobs. Due to significant helath issues, I had to take a 3 month break from university this year (including a month long hospital admission), and habve been too unwell to undertake any paid work this year. I am in need of a short break / holiday to prevent further burnout and have some rest and fun, to enable me to finish my research degree at university.

Please briefly explain how this break would benefit you	It would be great to have a few days where we weren't worrying about money, weren't sitting trapped on the sofa waiting for another day to pass, and to have a view of the countryside. I'm certain we would all benefit hugely from fresh air and a little freedom.
Please briefly explain why you're unable to fund this break yourself?	I've been unable to work due to looking after my 2 disabled children and this had a significant effect on our finances. When some of my friends had to give up work or go part time to look after elderly parents it's just for a couple of years; they've paid off the mortgage, have a fairly new car, with savings and pensions to back them up. This isn't how it is for us. The past decades have been incredibly difficult. We've never had anything like a foreign holiday, we've only ever had one take-away meal as a family and my shoes and underwear are second-hand, along with everything else. We lived in a small 2-bedroom house, but had to buy a larger property to allow my family member to have space (they are tall and each have significant behavioural problems) in a last-ditch attempt to keep the family together. However, this means all our bills are larger too, which leaves almost nothing to live on, despite my partner's heroic efforts to stay in full-time employment while the chaos engulfs us

Are you?	A carer applying for yourself
Do you or the person you support have a disability as defined by the Equality Act 2010?	Yes
Please select all conditions or illnesses that apply?	Dexterity (for example lifting and carrying objects, using a keyboard)

	Memory Socially or behaviourally (for example associated with autism spectrum disorder (ASD) which includes Asperger's, or attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD))
Brief Confirmation	They have learning disabilities and autism. they struggle to perform everyday tasks safely, or to recognise or react to dangers, and can't be left alone, so either my partner or I have to be with them in the house, or when they are out and about. They find it difficult to face Social Situations, and to accept changes in their routines and in their environment, so they often decide to not leave the house. They love "Flags of the World" (they know all the different countries) and will spend many hours each day drawing them, colouring them in and also talking about them. We spend a lot of our days just waiting
As a carer, what type of care and support do you personally provide?	Personal care (washing, dressing, toileting, feeding) Household tasks (cooking, cleaning, shopping, laundry) Managing appointments and healthcare coordination Financial and administrative support Emotional support and companionship Supervision for safety (ensuring they don't come to harm) Communication support (speaking for them, interpreting their needs) Night-time care (waking during the night to provide care)
Brief Description of Care Support Received or Provided	We provide personal care twice daily, manage their emotions, expectations and experiences, provide a full housekeeping service, and supervise constantly
As a carer, on average how many hours of support do you provide a week?	50+

Please briefly explain how this break would benefit you	It would benefit my mental health. I sometimes feel low in mood. I show signs of frustration often due to not having any control of my own life and having a break away would give me something to look forward to and would lift my mood. It would allow me to experience being somewhere new and make me happy.
Please briefly explain why you're unable to fund this break yourself?	As after paying towards my care and paying my utility bills and food and buying clothes, there isn't much money left.

Please briefly explain how this break would benefit you	They suffer from Bipolar disorder which is a chronic condition affecting the quality of their life and requiring ongoing treatment. they often find it difficult to leave their home. They are also disabled through hearing impairment, a condition which causes their to be further isolated
Please briefly explain why you're unable to fund this break yourself?	They are hearing-impaired and this together with their mental health results in their leading a life of isolation. they suffers from agoraphobia and is daunted by the use of having a holiday. Due to their issues and lifestyle they also suffers from various physical conditions such as diabetes and chronic back pain. They would benefit from this holiday to Bournemouth, as they have been through so much health challenges and been a parent and been separated from that child where they get their joy and strength from has really broken they. They understand that this separation is due to their mental health and they is working on it. They would benefit from this break for a change of environment that constantly reminds their of the scar that mental health has left on them. They would also like to explore and meet new people which this holiday could bring

Please briefly explain how this break would benefit you	I have not been to any cultural events since covid. This is a luxury that I struggled to budget for even when I was employed (I live alone) and is now beyond reach as an unpaid carer. I should feel revitalised having had a good night out, and a rare chance to connect with other people who share the same interests.
Please briefly explain why you're unable to fund this break yourself?	My sibling gets the Carers Allowance. I came out of employment and came back to support the, a year ago, using all my savings to support myself during that time. I only recently started claiming UC as I had no other choice.

About Applicant

Are you?	A carer applying for yourself
Do you or the person you support have a disability as defined by the Equality Act 2010?	Yes
Please select all conditions or illnesses that apply?	Vision (for example blindness or partial sight) Hearing (for example deafness or partial hearing) Mobility (for example walking short distances or climbing stairs) Dexterity (for example lifting and carrying objects, using a keyboard) Stamina or breathing or fatigue Socially or behaviourally (for example associated with autism spectrum disorder (ASD) which includes Asperger's, or attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD))

Brief Confirmation	Lower limb ataxia means they stagger everywhere and frequently fall - most recent fall resulted in dislocated shoulder, so only have one functioning limb at present. Their stamina has also declined significantly since the fall and they are often breathless due to COPD. They refuse to modify their house or move (suspected undiagnosed autism) which makes my job much more difficult to look after them.
As a carer, what type of care and support do you personally provide?	Personal care (washing, dressing, toileting, feeding) Mobility assistance (helping them move around, transfers, getting in/out of bed) Medication management (administering, reminding, organizing) Household tasks (cooking, cleaning, shopping, laundry) Managing appointments and healthcare coordination Financial and administrative support Supervision for safety (ensuring they don't come to harm) Communication support (speaking for them, interpreting their needs)
Brief Description of Care Support Received or Provided	On the clock from when they get up till bed (usually 2am). Can't leave the house if no one else is here as they are a danger to themselves and have poor executive decision making
As a carer, on average how many hours of support do you provide a week?	50+

Please briefly explain how this break would benefit you	It would relieve some of the guilt I have from my illness flare reducing my family's holiday fund. It would give me something to look forward to - a goal. It would enable me to get away from the pressures of home.
Please briefly explain why you're unable to fund this break yourself?	I am a distance learning student. I receive a monthly amount which has been cut by 50% this month owing to my illness. The money would have afforded us a holiday as a family. My partner works and their salary pays all of our bills and expenses.

Exceptional Circumstance	Carer breakdown/urgent need My partner is exhausted taking care of all of us. they needs a proper break where they can relax and where we could all feel safe.
Please briefly explain how this break would benefit you	I have ptds, depression and anxiety. I can't cook, clean, nor take care of my family properly. It is such a shameful thing to beg to have an holiday but my husband, my carer, is tired, they is working, studying and takes care of us when they gets back. they just needs a place to relax and feel like an human being again.
Please briefly explain why you're unable to fund this break yourself?	With the cost of living, we can afford the minimum only. It seems easy to live with what we get every month, but once we pay everything, buy groceries and all the necessity for our children, there's not much left to go on holiday My partner takes care of me and our children, by cleaning and cooking after work or college, I can see he's tired and exhausted. I wish I could offer their some rest

Please briefly explain how this break would benefit you	“This break will give me and my family much-needed rest after a very difficult time caring for my parents, especially as my parent has been unwell. Living with fibromyalgia, ME and mental health challenges, the constant caring routine leaves me exhausted
Please briefly explain why you’re unable to fund this break yourself?	I am living on a fixed, low income from benefits, which already covers essential bills, food, and extra costs related to my fibromyalgia, mental health needs, and caring for my elderly parents. I have already contributed nearly £3,000 of my own money toward this holiday — all I can afford — plus I have a confirmed £300 grant from FamilyLine. There is simply no spare budget left to cover the remaining balance, and this break is vital for my health and my family’s well being as my parent is very unwell.

Exceptional Circumstance	Severe financial hardship I have care 5 x a day. Meds, food preparation, showers, dressing, monitoring due to complex health conditions. Also, I have not had a break for a long time. I spent 15 years in a domestic violence situation and it's left me with complex PTSD which has also resulted in my disability. I tried to have a holiday in 2023 but had a complete mental health breakdown which resulted in me being sectioned, having to move so far from family to be safe having to change my name for safety reasons. I need to have a care giver with me to help me on a holiday .
Please briefly explain how this break would benefit you	It would give me time to have fun with family first time in a long time. Also give me a week of not being isolated from family . Time to relax away from my home environment as most of the time I only see my care team
Please briefly explain why you're unable to fund this break yourself?	I have very limited income , I have to pay towards my care , money for were I live and outers disability related expenses so holidays out of my reach plus being disabled holidays cost more

Are you?	A disabled person
Do you or the person you support have a disability as defined by the Equality Act 2010?	Yes
Please select all conditions or illnesses that apply?	Mobility (for example walking short distances or climbing stairs) Memory Mental health

Brief Confirmation	I live with constant pain, I use a wheelchair all the time , I have good bad days , I have care 5 times a day as I have short term memory and I have medication to help with pain and other health issues . I used to enjoy holidays but for 5 years not had any and miss out so much spending quality time with family . I now live far away from family due to leaving DV which has had a massive impact on my health that's I get flash backs and now have PTSD so most nights I hardly sleep . I am socially isolated as well no that has an impact on my mental health. 5 years ago I had respite funded but was take away due to cuts and me having to move
As a carer, what type of care and support do you personally provide?

Please briefly explain how this break would benefit you	I haven't had a holiday in six years since before Covid. Other than two section 3s in that time I haven't spent a single night away from home. A change of scenery and time away would hopefully refresh me, give me a fresh perspective and make me feel less trapped by my circumstances.
Please briefly explain why you're unable to fund this break yourself?	I feel that I am budgeting responsibly and am very grateful for my Universal Credit and PIP, everything is just so much more expensive these last few years to the extent that saving is very difficult. I am spending £500 a month on groceries and toiletries. With bills over £200 and private counselling at another £200 a month, you can see already that money isn't going as far as it used to once I account for the very essentials. A holiday is a luxury I can't currently afford, but one that I think could really benefit me and my continued recovery, giving new confidence, fresh hope, and a much needed change of scenery.

About Applicant

Are you?	A disabled person
Do you or the person you support have a disability as defined by the Equality Act 2010?	Yes
Please select all conditions or illnesses that apply?	Mental health
Brief Confirmation	My disability is Schizoaffective Disorder and it affects me in phases of remission such as currently with what they call 'negative symptoms'. That's low mood, difficulty concentrating, isolating and avoiding people etc. I struggle with anxiety when in crowded places or on public transport and sometimes get paranoid. Generally it feels like my world has just shrunk each successive relapse and hospitalisation. When I am in full blown psychosis we wouldn't even be able to have a conversation about a short break like this.

Please briefly explain how this break would benefit you	This break would give me essential time to rest physically and mentally after the continuous demands of full-time caring. It would allow me to reduce stress, prevent burnout, and focus on my own wellbeing, which I often have to put aside. Having time to recharge would help me return to my caring role with renewed energy,
Please briefly explain why you're unable to fund this break yourself?	I am unable to fund this break myself due to my role as a full-time unpaid carer for my parent who has dementia. My caring responsibilities significantly limit my ability to work, which affects my income. In addition to caring for my parent, I also manage and maintain my own home and household expenses. Most of my available funds go towards essential living costs, and as a result, I do not have the financial means to pay for a break independently

Are you?	A carer applying for yourself
Do you or the person you support have a disability as defined by the Equality Act 2010?	Yes
Please select all conditions or illnesses that apply?	Mobility (for example walking short distances or climbing stairs) Memory
Brief Confirmation	Dementia affects my parent's memory, understanding, and ability to manage everyday tasks independently. they becomes] confused easily, struggles to follow conversations, and finds changes in routine very distressing. they relies on support for appointments, decision-making, and daily activities, as they is no longer able to manage these safely on their own. The condition also impacts their confidence and emotional wellbeing, often causing anxiety and frustration.

As a carer, what type of care and support do you personally provide?	Personal care (washing, dressing, toileting, feeding) Mobility assistance (helping them move around, transfers, getting in/out of bed) Medication management (administering, reminding, organizing) Household tasks (cooking, cleaning, shopping, laundry) Managing appointments and healthcare coordination Financial and administrative support Emotional support and companionship Supervision for safety (ensuring they don't come to harm) Communication support (speaking for them, interpreting their needs) Night-time care (waking during the night to provide care)
Brief Description of Care Support Received or Provided	I provide daily, hands-on support for my parent due to their dementia. This includes: Preparing meals, administer and prepare medication, personal care, managing appointments
As a carer, on average how many hours of support do you provide a week?	50+

Please briefly explain how this break would benefit you	Without structured activities during the summer holidays, they can become frustrated and withdrawn. This break would allow their to spend time with friends, enjoy activities in a safe, supportive environment and remain active throughout the holidays, also providing valuable respite for our family who care for their full-time.
Please briefly explain why you're unable to fund this break yourself?	Like many families caring for a disabled adult, we face significant financial pressures due to rising living costs and the additional expenses associated with disability. They require constant supervision and intense specialist support, which places considerable demands on our family's resources. The support available through the Local Authority does not fully meet their needs, and the family is currently challenging this through the appropriate channels. We receive Universal Credit and are unable to cover the cost of specialist holiday provision ourselves. Programmes such as Misgav's summer camp require highly trained staff and enhanced levels of support, making them far more costly than mainstream activities. Without financial assistance, they would be unable to access this valuable opportunity. Receiving a grant would make a significant difference to our family and would ensure that they can enjoy a safe, structured and fulfilling summer with the specialist support they requires.

Please briefly explain how this break would benefit you	Last time them and their carer tried to go away in a caravan it ended in disaster. they just couldn't cope as there wasn't enough to keep their engaged. they became completely unmanageable and even threatened to kill the PA in the car. They dearly want to try again but this time go to Butlins
Please briefly explain why you're unable to fund this break yourself?	Because they have to pay half for their respite care. This means there isn't enough left to pay for both the trip to Butlins and also for the PA to go with they. they really wants to go with their PA (not us!)
